UPGRADED SOUND & SCREEN ENHANCE LIBRARY EVENTS!

Programs, classes, and special events held in the Library's Large Meeting Room just got elevated to a dynamic new level thanks to the new AV system upgrade installed in late August of this year. Funded by the Friends of the Winchester Public Library, the new AV setup will now enhance the experiences of both Library staff for internal presentations as well as events, talks, workshops, and more presented to the public.

As Winchester Public Library's Assistant Director Christine Amatrudo shared, the new AV system replaced the previous somewhat-antiquated one that, though it functioned well enough for many years, the time had come to advance the audio-visual equipment to this new state-of-the-art setup. "The main difference is the ease of setup and how unobtrusive the technology is," explained Christine. "Previously, we had an AV cart that had to block the aisle in order to be positioned correctly. The power cord running from the cart in the center of the room to the wall was a constant trip hazard for attendees, not to mention the untidy appearance. Speakers/instructors can now move freely in front of the screen, whereas before they often had the projector shining in their face and would accidentally cast distracting shadows. Overall it's a more comfortable experience for attendees and a more professional experience for presenters and staff."

Library patrons were able to enjoy the new AV system during a special silent movie night with live musical accompaniment.

Featuring a high-powered wall-mounted projector connected to the in-room audio system, attendees and Library patrons can now enjoy a sharper, brighter picture on the screen, as well as enjoy the benefits of the crisp-sounding audio emitting from the already-installed six speakers.

The significant visual and audio improvements have expanded the Library's options to offer new programs centered on sound and vision – such as a recent movie screening that was presented this fall, as previously the projector's sound would be of poor quality, producing more of a tinny effect. That alone caused Christine and staff to hold back on pursuing certain events. "Setting up the old projector was never a smooth process," Christine added, "it was outdated and temperamental and, while librarians are great at troubleshooting, I know it was a headache for staff. It's great to have some technology that simply works as it should." A whole brand-new pictorial/film/sonic world is now wide open for all at the Winchester Public Library thanks to this exciting new AV addition.

JOIN US AS A FRIEND OF THE LIBRARY

Dear Neighbors,

Your generous donations have brought incredible enhancements to our Library. We now have a powerful new projector and sound system in the large meeting room, ready to elevate your experience during author talks and Library-hosted events with sharper visuals and clearer sound.

This summer, your support kept our kids engaged with enriching activities. Children aged 4 to 11 kicked off summer with a fun-filled foam party before diving into our Level Up Summer Reading Program. Kids marveled at all kinds of creatures from Curious Creatures and our elementary school aged children created beautiful art with Studio on the Common. Itsy Bitsy Readers charmed our littlest ones with songs, rhymes, and playful stories.

Our teen programs offered a variety of engaging programs just for teens. From our new fiber arts program to learn the basics of knitting and crocheting, to crafting the Milky Way with a 3,000-piece LEGO set, to painting landscapes while sipping lemonade, and discussing sci-fi and fantasy books with the Young Adult Book Club, our community's teens connected safely with one another all summer long.

Looking forward, we're excited to offer more children and teen programs in the months ahead: Matt Heaton will entertain kids under six with music, kids in grades 2-5 will craft festive holiday confections, and teens will enjoy colorful crafts and Friday board games.
